An Electronic Prophesying

_Puritanism: An Electronic Prophesying_

The prophesying in the Elizabethan church and the conferences that followed on them, were opportunities for clergy to learn from one another. An individual would preach and the group would discuss the message. That is what we are attempting over four hundred years later with this electronic seminar. This is not a bulletin board but an actual discussion using web chat room technology. As such it offers a chance for real time conversation with scholars around the world.

Scholars who have work in progress that they wish to test by putting it before a collegial gathering of others interested in the field are invited to send a paper in electronic form to one of the seminar moderators, listed below. They will share such submissions and rapidly decide which to post. The process can be expedited by sending copies of the paper to each of the moderators. If a paper is accepted the moderators will arrange with the author for a mutually convenient time when the author will be available for a ninety minute to two hour electronic chat session for discussion of the paper.

Notice of the paper and of the agreed on chat schedule will be posted on the relevant list-serves on the net.

Anyone interested in joining in the chat will be asked to contact Dr. Francis J. Bremer, who will provide them with a personal log-in name and password. The seminar discussion is a real time exchange with the author and others logged in. Those who wish to participate in that discussion should contact Dr. Bremer for a password good only for the particular discussion. Those with a password from previous discussions will need to reapply. A new server at Millersville will require a different style of password.

Forthcoming Discussion: Dr. Michael Winship, "PRESBYTERIANISM, POLITICS, AND LUNACY: THE COPINGER-HACKET CONSPIRACY AS THE APOTHEOSIS OF THE ELIZABETHAN PURITAN MOVEMENT"

The discussion of Dr. Winship's paper will be on June 16, 2004 at 12:00 noon Eastern time. To participate in the discussion contact Dr. Francis J. Bremer (francis.bremer@millersville.edu) for a password.
