Where is it dangerous to be out?

More than a third of the 196 countries recognized on this planet consider homosexuality illegal.

In some cases, this can entail harsh punishment, including torture and death. But there is an even darker side to anti-LGBTQ violence. In many places, the law is not applied evenly, and gay, lesbian, trans, and nonbinary people face constant, unregulated abuse.

The Human Rights Campaign estimates that between 200 and 300 people are killed each year as a result of anti-LGBTQ violence. And there are many more injured or traumatized.

We cannot afford to let this happen. We must stand up for the rights of all people, regardless of their sexual orientation or gender identity. We must fight to make the world a safer, more accepting place for everyone.

I'm gay
I'm lesbian
I am bisexual
I am transgender
I am like you
I'm human

The Human Rights Campaign (HRC) is the nation's largest civil rights organization working to achieve equality for lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, and queer people.

By standing up for LGBTQ+ rights, we can make the world a better place for everyone. Together, we can create a future where everyone is treated with respect, dignity, and fairness.

Let's work together to ensure that everyone has the same rights and opportunities. Let's make the world safer, stronger, and more just for all.
