Getting an account

How do I get a D2L Brightspace account?

All current students, faculty members, and staff members automatically get accounts in D2L. So if you’re a member of the Millersville University community, you probably have a D2L account already.

If you’ve just joined our community, as a new student or as a new employee, make sure you’ve completed important first steps, including:

- submitting all your completed and signed paperwork
- if you are a new student: paying your deposit
- if you are a new employee: completing the background check and clearance process

There may be a short delay as your paperwork is processed into Banner, our student information system, but if several business days have passed, please contact the IT Help Desk.

Please see the username and password page for more information on logging in to D2L.
