Printing survey results

How may I print the results of a survey?

Your course instructor chooses, for each survey, whether or not to make results available. When your instructor does make survey results available to you, she or he will choose in which format or formats you may see those results. Therefore, your ability to see, and export, survey results will vary from course to course and survey to survey.

These instructions assume you have already logged in to D2L and entered the course in which you wish to work.
